HEMATOLOGY REPORTS

Editor-in-Chief: Giovanni Martinelli, Italy

Hematology Reports is an Open Access, online-only, peer-reviewed journal that considers mainly original articles, case reports and reviews on all aspects of prevention, diagnosis and management of disorders of the blood, as well as related molecular and cell biology, genetics, pathophysiology, epidemiology and controlled trials. Manuscripts on laboratory and clinical aspects of blood-related conditions are welcome, as well as research on the treatment of blood diseases. Occasional issues and supplements publish an in-depth clinical and biological analysis of particular types of blood diseases. The journal also reviews important recent developments in the biology and treatment of malignant diseases, and highlights promising new directions.

For more information
Hematology Reports / Emanuela Fusinato Managing Editor
emanuela.fusinato@pagepress.org